

The Tulving Company, Inc. - Trustee Report #9

August 24, 2016

Weneta M.A. Kosmala, the duly appointed Chapter 7 trustee (“Trustee”) in The Tulving Company, Inc. (“Tulving”) bankruptcy, provides this Ninth Trustee Report (Trustee Report #9).

As stated in Mr. Neilson’s Trustee Report #8, I was appointed as the successor Trustee for Tulving by the Office of the United States Trustee, effective April 1, 2016. For continuity of services and based on their knowledge of the case, I have retained the professional firms that had been providing services on behalf of the Tulving estate for Mr. Neilson, namely the Berkeley Research Group, LLC as my financial advisors and Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones LLP, as my legal counsel.

Mr. Neilson had outlined the following matters awaiting final resolution in his last report: (1) The sale of the remaining inventory by Heritage Numismatic Auctions, d/b/a Heritage Auctions (“Heritage”); (2) The transfer of the Presidential Error Coins to victim/creditors opting for inclusion; (3) Continuation of the litigation recently filed by the estate against Mr. Levon Gugasian and his son Armen; (4) Pursuit of possible other assets which may belong to the estate but have not been fully resolved. The status of these matters is as follows:

Sale of Coins

In accordance with orders of the Bankruptcy Court, Heritage conducted an auction of approximately 175,000 coins, both graded and ungraded modern coins from 1968 to the present. These coins were sold in lots which, on average, contained 500-1,000 coins. Lot viewing was available between June 6, 2016 and June 10, 2016, and sealed bids were accepted until 5:00 p.m. Central Time on June 10, 2016.

The date of the auction and the awarding of lots to purchasers took place on June 10, 2016; all of the lots were sold at the auction. The proceeds of sale for the lots amounted to $385,314.00, which was consistent with prior estimates provided to the Trustee. A copy of the Auctioneer’s Report is attached hereto as Exhibit 1. Please note that the distribution of funds in a chapter 7 case generally does not occur until the conclusion of the case. In addition, in accordance with our Coordination Agreement, I will be consulting with the U.S. Government regarding the priority of claims as against estate assets.

Presidential Error Coins

It was anticipated that the Presidential Error Coins, consisting of 13,854 Presidential Error-Missing Edge Letter Coins and 1,690 Double Edge Coins, would be shipped to victim/creditors in or about May of this year. As noted in the last Trustee Report, the Presidential Error Coins had been valued by Miles Standish, Tulving's coin expert, at approximately $7.3 million. However, that valuation has been questioned by several creditors and certain other coin experts who believe the Standish valuation is overstated. Heritage also disagrees with the Standish valuation. Based on their recent inventory and review, it is Heritage's opinion that the value of the Presidential Error Coins is approximately $500,000 - $600,000.

I cannot substantiate either valuation of the Presidential Error Coins without a formal grading. In order to value the Presidential Error Coins, they must be individually graded, after which a value or range of values may be readily assigned. Although the Debtor's coin expert reportedly looked at and graded the Presidential Error Coins, only 2800 of the Presidential Error Coins were separately marked; the remaining coins were comingled after their review. Therefore, certain of the Presidential Error Coins may have values much greater than other Presidential Error Coins. For example, included among the Presidential Error Coins are numerous 2009 Sac dollar coins which will likely grade between 64 through 68. Under the price guide published by Professional Coin Grading Service, an international coin grading service ("PCGS"), a 2009 Sac dollar coin graded 64 has a value of $85.00 while a 2009 Sac dollar coin graded 68 would have a value of $1,000.00. Absent a formal grading of the coins, there is no way to determine their value or to prepare a ratable allocation of the Presidential Error Coins on account of individual victim/creditor claims. Under the circumstances, the allocation of Presidential Error Coins based upon the Standish valuation is not workable and I have asked Heritage to hold the Presidential Error Coins until further instruction and Court order.

The estate reached out to coin valuation experts to obtain bids for conducting a formal valuation of the Presidential Error Coins. Heritage made a bid to value the Presidential Error

Coins for a cost of approximately $250,000, which I found to be cost prohibitive. I requested that Miles Standish submit a bid to re-grade and value the coins. Mr. Standish declined my request to submit a bid, indicating that he stands by his valuation of the Presidential Error Coins.

This summer I received an offer from GreatCollections.com d/b/a Great Collections (“Great Collections”), a renowned coin auctioneer (and the purchaser of the Debtor’s customer lists), to grade the Presidential Error Coins through PCGS, a national coin grading service, as part of its inventory and auction services at a cost of less than half that quoted by Heritage. I am in the process of finalizing a motion to approve the retention of Great Collections to pick-up the Presidential Error Coins from Heritage in Dallas, Texas, transport them to its location in Irvine, California, submit the Presidential Error Coins to PCGS for grading and encapsulation, inventory the coins and, subject to a new allocation schedule and further court order (described below), ship the graded coins to victim/creditors.

Once the Presidential Error Coins are graded, my professionals will prepare an allocation schedule for distributing the coins to victim/creditors based on their graded values. I will then file a motion for Bankruptcy Court approval of that allocation schedule and request authorization to make distributions of Presidential Error Coins to victim/creditors based upon that new coin allocation schedule. The allocation schedule will list victim/creditors by claim number only and will specify the Presidential Error Coins to be distributed to each such victim/creditor. I am also requesting that the Court approve a further opt-out period so that, once the values and allocation schedule are finalized, creditors may determine whether or not to receive the coins based on such schedule. (Previously, approximately 31 creditors opted-out of receiving coins in partial payment of their claims. I believe that victim/creditors should have another opportunity to make that determination after they are notified of the specific coins they are to receive and the graded values of those coins.) The coins that would otherwise be sent to victim/creditors who determine to “opt-out” of receiving Presidential Error Coins will be auctioned by Great Collections and the net sale proceeds will be distributed pro rata to all victim/creditors.

The estate must give at least 21-days’ notice of hearings on these types of motions. If the Court approves the retention of Great Collections by the second half of September, the transportation and grading of the coins may take up to 10 weeks, after which the allocation schedule will be prepared and another motion filed to approve that allocation schedule and allow creditors an opportunity to “opt-out” of receiving coins based on the new allocation schedule. Therefore, we do not anticipate distributing Presidential Error Coins until early 2017.

While I am aware that this process will cause a delay in the distribution of Presidential Error Coins to victim/creditors, I believe that this is the best mechanism to ensure an accurate, objective allocation of the coins on account of victim/creditors’ claims.

Litigation Against Gugasians

As noted in Report #8, the estate commenced lawsuits against Levon Gugasian and his son Armen Haig Gugasian. In an effort to reach a resolution of the claims asserted against the Gugasians, my counsel and I engaged in mediation with the Gugasians and their counsel on August 10, 2016. Despite the efforts of the mediator, no settlement was reached. The parties will be setting a discovery schedule in the upcoming weeks. Given the need to conduct discovery and depose various parties including, without limitation, Hannes Tulving Jr., we anticipate that these lawsuits will go to trial sometime during the second or third quarter of 2017.

Other Claims and Causes of Action

As was reported previously, the estate holds a claim against an account debtor for a receivable in the amount of $600,000. That account debtor entered into a repayment agreement to repay that claim and signed a stipulated judgment. After the account debtor defaulted in its payment terms to the estate, we have pursued state law remedies including perfecting our judgment and appointing a keeper earlier this year. Unfortunately no assets have been recovered and we are looking into contingency counsel to pursue this matter. The estate is also continuing to evaluate certain other claims and has requested the turnover of documents to determine the viability of such claims. In this process, I am mindful of the administrative cost to the estate of undertaking these actions and have endeavored to proceed in a streamlined cost-effective manner.

Conclusion

I will apprise creditors of further progress on these matters and we will be serving notice of the Great Collections’ retention motion and other pleadings via e-mail to creditors as has been authorized by order of the Court. If you are unsure that we have your correct e-mail information, please provide your name and e-mail address to: lkramer@thinkbrg.com at the offices of my financial advisors. Thank you for your continued patience as we work through the remainder of these issues.
