Case No. 16-11767-CMA

MOTION FOR ORDER AUTHORIZING THE
AUCTION AND SALE OF THE DEBTOR'S EQUIPMENT, DIES, TOOLING, ARCHIVES, AND INVENTORY FREE AND CLEAR OF ALL LIENS,
CLAIMS, INTERESTS, AND ENCUMBRANCES

14
15 I. INTRODUCTION

16 Mark Calvert (the "Trustee"), Chapter 11 Trustee for Northwest Territorial Mint, LLC 17 ("NWTM" or the "Debtor"), submits this Motion requesting approval of the sale by auction of the 18 Debtor's physical assets such as equipment, dies, tooling, archives, and inventory, free and clear of 19 all liens, claims, and encumbrances. The Trustee has worked for more than 20 months to reorganize 20 the business of NWTM and preserve its value as a going concern. Unfortunately, the business has 21 not been profitable since the Spring of 2017 and the Trustee has run out of cash to continue to 22 operate the business. The Trustee closed the business on December 29, 2017 after working for many 23 months to sell the business as a going concern. The Trustee now needs to liquidate the physical 24 assets of the bankruptcy estate, worth several million dollars, and eliminate overhead expenses 25 including salaries and occupancy costs necessary to accomplish the liquidation. The Trustee believes 26 the most effective and beneficial way to accomplish this goal is to conduct a public auction of the 1 assets using James G. Murphy Inc. (“Murphy”) as auctioneer. Murphy has been previously 2 appointed by the Court as auctioneer. This Motion requests authority for Murphy to conduct the 3 auction and sale of the physical assets of the estate. The Motion is supported by the Declaration of 4 Mark Calvert filed concurrently herewith. In support of this Motion, the Trustee respectfully 5 represents as follows:

6 II. BACKGROUND

7 A. History of the Case and Need for Sale by Auction.

8 On April 1, 2016, the Debtor commenced this case by filing a voluntary petition under 9 chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. On April 11, 2016, the Court appointed Mark 10 Calvert as chapter 11 Trustee. See Dkt. No. 51.

11 Upon his appointment, the Trustee took control over the business operations of the Debtor 12 and initiated his investigation of the financial affairs of the bankruptcy estate. The Debtor’s custom 13 minting operations, which were based out of NWTM’s Dayton, Nevada, facility, were the core 14 operations of the Debtor. The Trustee’s goal in this case had been to maximize the recovery of 15 creditors, by improving sales and profitability of the Debtor’s custom-minting business and 16 ultimately proposing a plan of reorganization. In the course of his management of the Debtor’s 17 business, the Trustee faced significant challenges. The Trustee was forced to implement multiple 18 employee layoffs, and streamline the Debtor’s business operations. The Trustee faced constant 19 pressures to manage cash resources in order to stabilize the Debtor’s business operations. In January 20 2017 the Trustee retained a marketing and sales oriented CEO to grow revenue to achieve 21 profitability. In the Spring of 2017, the business of the estate suffered unexpected downturn in 22 revenue and thus incurred operating losses which handicapped the Trustee’s ability to reorganize the 23 business on terms which would allow emergence from bankruptcy as a going concern.

24 In 2017, the Debtor’s business suffered marginal profits or net operating losses during each 25 of the last eleven months of the year and suffered an operating loss of more than half a million 26 dollars for calendar year 2017.

1 Beginning in May 2017, the Trustee engaged in marketing efforts to sell the business. The 2 trustee contacted in excess of 60 potential buyers, 10 of which toured the plant and two of which 3 made offers that were not acceptable and approximated liquidation value, and one made an offer that 4 was acceptable but ultimately did not fund. In November, 2017 buyer executed an APA and a 5 escrow agreement to purchase the business, but the funds required to close the transaction did not 6 materialize. Due to inadequate cash resources, the Trustee was forced to close the business on 7 December 29, 2017, after working for many months to sell the business as a going concern.

8 The majority of the Debtor's assets constitute minting equipment, dies, inventory and an 9 archive of historical and reference materials. The Debtor's assets are primarily housed in the 10 Debtor's Dayton, Nevada facility. Certain valuable equipment of the Debtor is located in Green Bay, 11 Wisconsin, but will be moved from Green Bay to Dayton if the Court approves the auction. It is 12 imperative that the Trustee be able to conduct a sale of the Debtor's assets expeditiously in order to 13 reduce administrative expenses, and in order to be able to move out of its facility in Dayton. It would 14 not be practical to move all the assets at the Dayton facility to a separate facility pending the auction.
15 Some of the equipment is very large, heavy machinery, which would be costly to house in a separate 16 facility.

17 On March 1, 2017, the Court entered an Ex Parte Order Authorizing Employment of James 18 G. Murphy Inc. as Auctioneer for Trustee. See Dkt. No. 926. The order, which was sought in 19 connection with the Trustee's efforts to sell certain surplus equipment, provides that the Trustee is 20 authorized to employ Murphy as auctioneer to appraise the Debtor's equipment and to conduct an 21 auction on such terms and conditions as the Court may direct in a further order. In March 2017, 22 Murphy appraised the Debtor's surplus equipment and non-surplus equipment in the Debtor's 23 Dayton facility.

24 In June, 2017, the Trustee obtained the Court's approval of the sale of surplus and scrap 25 equipment. See Dkt. Nos. 1028, 1082. Subsequently, the Trustee did liquidate a few items of surplus 26 and scrap equipment through an online auction, but most of the surplus and scrap equipment remains

1 in the possession of the Trustee. The Trustee now wishes to sell substantially all of the Debtor's 2 remaining equipment and other assets at auction. The Trustee has reached an agreement with 3 Murphy to sell the Debtor's assets at auction under terms which compensate Murphy with a 10% 4 buyer's premium and reimbursement for expenses incurred in connection with the sale. A copy of 5 the terms of Murphy's engagement agreement is attached to the Declaration of Mark Calvert as 6 Exhibit A. Murphy has informed the Trustee that he will need to market the auction for a period of 7 two months prior to the conduct of the auction and that a buyer will need at least twenty days 8 following the auction to remove the assets from the company's business premises.

9 The Trustee continues to entertain offers from prospective purchasers for certain of the 10 estate's assets. Under the terms of the engagement agreement, the Trustee may pull property from 11 the auction before February 1, 2018 and sell it independently. The Trustee may pull property from 12 the auction after February 1, 2018 only in connection with a sale of substantially all of the Debtor's 13 property. In that scenario, the James G. Murphy will be entitled to a 5% commission on the property 14 pulled from the auction by the Trustee after February 1, 2018.

15 B. Alleged Interests in the Property to Be Sold

16 All of the assets that the Trustee intends to include in the auction are property of the 17 bankruptcy estate. Two creditors have asserted liens against certain of the assets of the estate, the 18 validity of which liens are disputed by the Trustee.¹ In addition, among the assets the Trustee 19 wishes to include in the auction is surplus equipment that is subject to an unperformed purchase
20 agreement with American Relief Mint ("ARM") which is the subject of a pending adversary 21 proceeding. In April of 2017, the Trustee obtained approval of the sale of certain surplus equipment
22 to ARM for a total purchase price of $190,003.00. Dkt. No. 981. ARM paid the Trustee a $14,500

23 _____
24 ¹ In June, 2017, the Court approved the Trustee's agreement with Prestige Capital Corporation under which 25 the Trustee factored receivables with Prestige. Prestige holds a security interest in accounts receivable and 26 inventory of the debtor under the factoring agreement. Prestige is in the process of collecting factored receivables and applying the proceeds of those collections to the amounts due under the factoring agreement.
Prestige has a considerable equity cushion in the accounts receivable and will be paid in full from the proceeds of accounts receivable before the auction takes place.

1 deposit, but failed to pay the balance of the purchase price. The Trustee filed an adversary
2 proceeding, Case No. 17-01127-CMA, to recover the balance of the purchase price from ARM 3 which remains pending before this Court. The Trustee intends to sell the surplus equipment that is 4 the subject of the dispute with ARM in order to mitigate his damages, reserving all rights against 5 ARM in the adversary proceeding.

6 The Court has expressed reservation of any determination as to whether Medallic Art
7 Company LP (“MALP”), a predecessor in interest to Medallic Art Company, LLC (“MACLLC”)
8 may hold an interest in certain of the assets under the Trustee’s control. But MALP does not hold 9 any interest in the assets held by the Trustee because MALP transferred all of its assets to 10 substantively consolidated debtor Medallic Art Company LLC in late 2009 and thereafter concluded 11 its business affairs.

12 Both owners of MACLLC and MALP have testified in this case that the assets of MALP 13 were transferred to and held by MACLLC.² For instance, Mr. Ross Hansen testified that it was his 14 “intention and understanding that MACLLC inherited, succeeded to or obtained all right, title and 15 interest in the purchased assets as well as the Leasehold from MALP.” Adv. Pro. Dkt. No. 24, ¶ 13.
16 Richard Bressler, co-owner of MACLLC and MALP, testified to the same. See Adv. Pro. Dkt.
17 No. 28, ¶ 5-9. The attorney for NWTM Frederick Mendoza, who participated in the sale and 18 formation of MALP and MACLLC, also testified that MACLLC succeeded to all right, title, and 19 interest in the assets purchased from Medallic LTD. Adv. Pro. Dkt. No. 29, ¶ 12. Bressler and 20 Hansen as the owners of both MALP and MACLLC are the parties who would know whether the 21 assets of MALP had been transferred to MACLLC. MACLLC alleged in its complaint in the 22 adversary proceeding that “MACLLC is the successor in interest to MALP and now owns the assets 23 originally purchased from Medallic Art Company Ltd. . . .” Adv. Pro. Dkt. No. 1, ¶ 10.³ As all of 24

25 ² The owners of MALP and Medallic Art Company LLC are the same: Richard Bressler and Ross Hansen.

26 ³ The Court would also recall that MACLLC argued that it was entitled to royalty and lease payments from NWTM based on MACLLC’s lease of these same personal property assets to NWTM.

1 the assets acquired from Medallic Ltd. (the entity controlled by the Hoffs) by MALP were 2 transferred to MACLLC, those assets are all now part of the substantively consolidated bankruptcy 3 estate.

4 The Hoffs allege that they hold a security interest in certain personal property relating to the 5 Dayton Lease. A copy of the Hoff Security Agreement is attached to the Declaration of Connie Hoff
6 Dkt. 1330, Ex. D. The Trustee disputes that the Hoffs hold a perfected security interest in the assets 7 identified in the Security Agreement. Medallic Art Limited Partnership (“MALP”) executed the 8 Security Agreement on July 10, 2009 and it was perfected on the same day. The initial financing 9 statement expired after five years, i.e., July 10, 2014. The Hoffs did not file a continuation statement 10 prior to the expiration of the initial UCC-1, causing their security interest to lapse.

11 Following the filing of this bankruptcy case, the Hoffs realized their security interest had 12 become unperfected and attempted to perfect it with a new financing statement. The Hoffs 13 attempted to file a new UCC-1 financing statement on April 21, 2016. The Hoffs further filed an 14 amendment to their April 21, 2016 financing statement on May 17, 2017, which purported to add
15 Medallic Art Company, LLC (“MACLLC”) as a debtor. MACLLC is the successor in interest to the 16 defunct MALP, and it was substantively consolidated with the Debtor nunc pro tunc as of April 1, 17 2016. Thus, the Hoffs’ May 17, 2017 financing statement amendment was filed post-petition as to 18 MACLLC.

19 The Trustee assumed the Dayton Lease pursuant to the Order Granting Trustee’s Motion to 20 Assume Lease for Dayton Facility (Dkt. No. 1018) (the “Assumption Order”). The Court conducted 21 an evidentiary hearing on whether there are defaults that must be cured by the Trustee in connection 22 with the assumption of the Dayton Lease. The Court issued a written ruling addressing cure 23 obligations of the Trustee, but did not rule on whether the Security Agreement is enforceable by the 24 Hoffs against the bankruptcy estate or whether the Security Agreement operates as a perfected lien 25 on the assets of the estate. The Hoff’s alleged security interest in the estate’s assets is subject to a 26

1 bona fide dispute. Even assuming that the security interest was valid, its perfection after lapse was 2 barred by the automatic stay rendering the security interest avoidable.

3 Pan American Silver Corporation (“Pan American”) has asserted a secured claim against 4 certain property of the Debtor that the Trustee intends to sell. Pan American delivered silver to the 5 Debtor so that the Debtor could make silver products. On April 4, 2005, Pan American entered into a 6 “Consignment/Security Agreement,” a copy of which is attached to Pan American’s Proof of Claim 7 No. 2829. The consignment agreement specifically provides that the Debtor (the “Consignee”) shall 8 hold “[a]ll right, title, and interest in and to the designs struck on both sides of the Coins, the designs 9 of the Bars (the ‘Designs’) and all dies and tooling used to make the Coins and Bars, and all 10 copyrights, trademarks, and other intellectual property rights embodied or incorporated in the 11 Designs, in the Products and/or in the dies and tooling used to make the Coins and Bars.”

12 Pan American asserts that it holds a security interest in certain equipment that the Trustee 13 intends to sell. The Trustee has identified only a few items of equipment at the Dayton Facility that 14 are described in Pan American’s proof of claim as being subject to its alleged security interest. The 15 Trustee disputes that Pan American holds a valid perfected security interest in the equipment. The 16 Security Agreement contains no collateral description that reasonably identifies what is described.
17 Instead, it states that Pan American’s collateral is identified in “Appendix A,” which is not attached 18 to the agreement. Moreover, to the extent Pan American’s claim is secured, it is not perfected. Pan 19 American’s 2005 financing statement has lapsed, and its 2015 financing statement fails to 20 sufficiently describe the collateral.

21 All of the assets that the Trustee intends to include in the auction are property of the 22 bankruptcy estate. While two parties have asserted lien interests in the property that the Trustee 23 proposes to auction, those liens are the subject of bona fide dispute and for the reasons more fully 24 expressed below, do not provide an impediment to the Trustee’s ability to conduct the auction and 25 liquidate the assets of the estate.

26

1 III. EVIDENCE RELIED UPON

2 This Motion relies on the arguments set forth herein, the Declaration of Trustee Mark Calvert 3 filed in support of the Motion, the pleadings and records on file in this case, and the arguments of 4 counsel, if any.

5 IV. ARGUMENT

6 The Court should authorize the Trustee to sell, at an auction conducted by Murphy, the 7 Debtor's equipment, inventory, and other tangible personal property, free and clear of liens, claims, 8 interests, and encumbrances. The Court should further authorize that Murphy conduct such auction
9 according to the terms described in its engagement agreement. Section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy 10 Code provides that the Trustee is authorized to sell assets outside the ordinary course of its business.
11 While the text of the Bankruptcy Code does not provide the standard for determining when it is a 12 appropriate for a court to authorize the sale of property of the estate, courts often approve a proposed 13 sale if such sale is based upon the sound business judgment of the debtor. See, e.g., Meyers v. Martin 14 (In re Martin), 9 F.3d 389, 395 (3d Cir. 1996); In re Lionel Corp., 722 F.2d 1063 (2d Cir. 1983).
15 Here, the Trustee's desire to sell the Debtor's assets at auction is based on his sound business 16 judgment and is in the best interests of the estate.

17 A. The Proposed Sale Meets the Requirements for a Sale Under 363(b)

18 Here, a sound business reason exists for the proposed sale. Namely, the objective of the 19 Trustee's proposed sale is to maximize the proceeds of such sale for the benefit of the bankruptcy
20 estate. See, e.g., Four B. Corp. v. Food Barn Stores, Inc.(In re Food Barn Stores, Inc.), 107 F.3d 21 558, 564-65 (8th Cir. 1997) (stating that in bankruptcy sales, "a primary objective of the Code [is] to 22 enhance the value of the estate at hand"); In re Integrated Res, Inc., 147 B.R. 650, 659 (S.D.N.Y.
23 1992) ("It is a well-established principle of bankruptcy law that the objective of bankruptcy rules 24 and the [Debtor's] duty with respect to such sales is to obtain the highest price or greatest overall 25 benefit possible for the estate.") (alteration in original) (quoting In re Atlanta Packaging Products, 26 Inc., 99 B.R. 124, 130 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 1988)).

1 An immediate sale by auction of the Debtor's equipment and inventory is critical. Further 2 delay will result in additional administrative expense for the estate due to additional rents which the 3 Trustee will pay the Dayton landlord and employees who will need to stay on staff to preserve the 4 property of the estate until the assets can be liquidated.

5 The sale of assets outside of the ordinary course of business may be conducted by public 6 sale, or a private sale, under the appropriate circumstances. Here, the Trustee has compared the 7 expressions of interest he has received for the equipment to the appraisal that James G. Murphy has 8 conducted. He has determined, as is within his discretion, that it is preferable to hold a public auction
9 for the property. See In re Bakalis, 220 B.R. 525, 531 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 1998) ("Unlike judicial sales 10 under the former Bankruptcy Act, the sale of estate property under the Bankruptcy Code is 11 conducted by a trustee, who has ample discretion . . . to conduct public or private sales of estate 12 property.") (internal quotations and citation omitted). An auction for the property is also preferable 13 because the estate as a whole is suffering from a cash shortfall and it is imperative that the assets be 14 sold expeditiously. The Trustee believes that a sale by auction is in the best interests of the estate.
15 To the extent the Trustee is presented with more beneficial offers to purchase the substantially all of 16 the assets prior to the auction, the Trustee reserves the right to retract assets from the auction and 17 present such purchase offers to the Court for approval.

18 B. Good Cause Exists to Waive the Stay Under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 6004(h)

19 Pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 6004(h), any order authorizing the use, sale, or lease of 20 property other than cash collateral is stayed for 14 days, unless the court orders otherwise. As noted 21 herein, given the liquidity concerns facing the Debtor's business, and the necessity that this auction
22 be conducted as quickly as possible, cause exists to waive the stay and permit the Trustee to quickly 23 conduct the auction as soon after entry of an order approving this Motion as the Trustee determines 24 is prudent.

25 C. The Proposed Sale Satisfies the Requirements of 11 U.S.C. § 363(f)

26 The Trustee requests that the sale by auction be free and clear of liens, interests, and encumbrances. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363(f), a Trustee may sell property of the estate under

1 11 U.S.C. § 363(b) free and clear of any interest in such property of any entity other than the estate 2 only if (1) applicable non-bankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such 3 interest; (2) such entity consents; (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which the property is to 4 be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property; (4) such interest is in bona 5 fide dispute; or (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a 6 money satisfaction of such interest. 11 U.S.C. § 363(f) (emphasis added). Here, there are multiple 7 bases upon which the Court should authorize the Trustee to conduct the auction of the Debtor’s 8 assets “free and clear.”

9 The Trustee has provided notice of this motion to the entire mailing matrix, so that if any 10 entity claims a lien on the assets being sold, they will have an opportunity to object. If no such 11 creditor objects, the sale free and clear will be permitted under 11 U.S.C. § 363(f)(2). Moreover, 12 even if alleged secured creditors object to the sale, the sale free and clear is permissible under 13 11 U.S.C. § 363(f)(5) because there are legal and equitable proceedings in which a lienholder could 14 be compelled to accept a money satisfaction of such lien, including the disposition of collateral 15 under the default remedies provided in Washington’s Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 62A.9A 16 RCW) or in a receivership proceeding pursuant to RCW 7.60.260.

17 In addition, the Motion satisfies the requirements of 11 U.S.C. § 363(f) because the alleged 18 lien interests in the property (asserted by the Hoffs and Pan American) are subject to a bona fide 19 dispute by the Trustee. With respect to Pan American, the collateral description contained in its 20 purported security agreement is inadequate and fails to comply with Washington law governing the 21 requirements of security agreements. Pursuant to RCW 62A.9A-203, Pan American’s security 22 agreement is only enforceable against the Debtor with respect to the collateral if the Debtor 23 authenticated a security agreement “that provides a description of the collateral.” According to 24 RCW 62A.9A-108, a security agreement’s description of collateral is sufficient only if “reasonably 25 identifies” the secured party’s collateral. The collateral description refers to a nonexistent “Appendix 26

1 A.” This certainly is not one of the examples of a reasonable identification set forth in RCW 2 62A.9A-108(b). If fact, it does not constitute a description of the collateral at all.

3 Even if the security agreement contained an adequate collateral description (which it does 4 not), Pan American’s security agreement is not properly perfected and therefore subject to avoidance 5 by the Trustee as a hypothetical lien creditor pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 544(b). While Pan American 6 filed a UCC-1 financing statement in 2005, it lapsed and is no longer effective upon the expiration of 7 five years. RCW 62A.9A-515(c). Pan American later filed a UCC-1 financing statement in 2015.
8 However, that financing statement contains an inadequate description of the collateral because it 9 neither contains (1) a description of the collateral that satisfies RCW 62A.9A-108, nor (2) “[a]n 10 indication that the financing statement covers all assets or all personal property.” RCW 62A.9A-504.
11 Again, the 2015 financing statement referenced the same nonexistent Appendix A referenced in the 12 security agreement. Thus, Pan American’s asserted lien, even if valid, was not properly perfected 13 and therefore is voidable.

14 The other alleged secured creditor is the Hoffs. Like the alleged security interest of Pan 15 American, the Hoffs’ alleged security interest is subject to a bona fide dispute because it is subject to 16 avoidance. The Trustee disputes that the Hoffs hold a perfected security interest in the assets listed 17 on Exhibit “B” to the Security Agreement. Medallic Art Limited Partnership (“MALP”) executed the 18 Security Agreement on July 10, 2009. On July 10, 2009, the Hoffs’ attorney filed a UCC-1 financing 19 statement with the State of Nevada. The initial financing statement expired after five years, i.e., July 20 10, 2014. The Hoffs did not file a continuation statement prior to the expiration of the initial UCC-1, 21 causing their security interest to lapse and become unperfected.

22 Following the filing of this bankruptcy case, the Hoffs realized their security interest had 23 become unperfected and attempted to perfect it with a new financing statement. The Hoffs
24 attempted to file a new UCC-1 financing statement on April 21, 2016. The Hoffs further filed an 25 amendment to their April 21, 2016 financing statement on May 17, 2017, which purported to add
26 Medallic Art Company, LLC (“MACLLC”) as a debtor. MACLLC is the successor in interest to the

1 defunct MALP, and it was substantively consolidated with the Debtor nunc pro tunc as of April 1, 2 2016. Thus, the Hoffs' May 17, 2017 financing statement amendment was filed post-petition as to 3 MACLLC. The hypothetical lien creditor referenced in section 544 of the Bankruptcy Code is one 4 holding a lien as of the date of the commencement of the case. Thus, any lien of the Hoffs is subject 5 to avoidance under 11 U.S.C. § 544, and therefore is subject to a bona fide dispute.

6 Furthermore, section 363(f) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied because any lienholder also 7 will be adequately protected by having its liens, if any, attach to the proceeds of the sale in the same 8 order of priority, with the same validity, force, and effect that such creditor had prior to such sale, 9 subject to any claims and defenses that the Trustee and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate may possess 10 with respect thereto. For all of these reasons, the proposed sale free and clear of liens should be 11 approved.

12 V. CONCLUSION

13 For the foregoing reasons, the Trustee respectfully requests that the Court enter an order in 14 the form proposed by the Trustee authorizing his sale by auction of the Debtor's equipment, 15 inventory, dies, tooling, and archives, free and clear of liens, claims, interests, and encumbrances.
16 The Trustee further requests that the terms of James G. Murphy's engagement with respect to the 17 auction be approved. In light of the decline in sales and severe cash shortages faced by the Trustee, 18 approval of the sale by auction as quickly as possible is the only means by which this estate will 19 generate any meaningful recovery.
