RE: Northwest Territorial Mint
Bankruptcy Petition #:16- 11767-CMA

Dear Sir,

I am writing this letter out of despair, frustration, and most of all anger. Angry because, at 75 years old, I am now involved in a bankruptcy where I may lose $4791.00 dollars because of a company holding back my order (August 23, 2015) which should have been delivered by October 15, 2015, and then, when I asked for a refund in January of 2016, another 3 months before Northwest Territorial Mint (NWTM) put me off with one excuse after another, until they filed for bankruptcy.

The Frustration comes from trying to deal with this company and getting nowhere. Phone calls, e-mails, letters to the Better Business Bureau, and finally the Attorney General's office in Seattle, Wa. I sent the letter to the Attorney General's office before the Bankruptcy was filed and when I received the letter back from them they told me it was out of their hands as NWTM had filed Bankruptcy. Any information I may want I would have to contact the court and that my file with the Attorney General was closed.

Closed? Why? I don't know the laws except the ones I have to obey but it seems to me that my complaint alone, not even considering the many others that I have read about in my much delayed research, is enough to charge someone with some kind of fraud or a deceptive business practice, at the very least. A business offering to sell something but not delivering the product and then holding on to a promised refund for months? I wonder why my order. They were to fill them as they came in so does that mean nobody received an order after August 23, 2016?

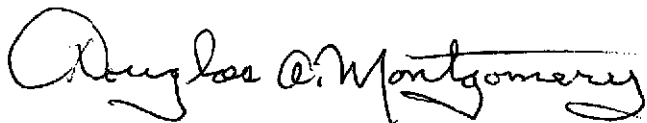

It further frustrates me that people still can order silver, gold etc. and NWTM will gladly take the money, "maybe" fill the orders, but they don't have to fill my order or send a refund?

The despair comes from not knowing what, if anything, I can do to have the money returned that I need in my future years of my retirement. I know almost nothing about bankruptcy law or how it works for Chapter 11. All I know is everyone I have contacted has not or can not help.

The Attorney General told me if I wanted more information I should contact this office which I am doing with this letter. What do I do? Do I need to file a claim against NWTM? Does any kind of lawsuit or claim help with people in my situation when it comes to bankruptcy? Am I even on a list to get paid with their reorganization? I was promised by a woman at NWTM that they would get back to me with more information but of course that never came and never will as they have never gotten back to me when they said they would.

Perhaps I could go on and on over this, and I'm pretty sure you'll receive other letters concerning the "failure to deliver" and "failure of returned monies", but I feel you have enough information for now.

Thank You

Douglas A. Montgomery
